

Technology

The Issue:

Parents and students are looking for ways to monitor online content and the amount of time spent in front of screens.

Description:

The use of technology increasingly involves sitting in front of a portable screen and navigating online resources - which is hard to manage in terms of time and content.

Nova Scotia Connection:

A 2013 survey of young Canadians, including Nova Scotians, found 84% of students have at least one rule about online use.
